From the President's Desk

Greetings Photogs;

I want to spend these lines encouraging you to attend both the upcoming Program Night and the next field trip planned by Loye.

The Program Night looks to be a good one. Loye sent out an e-notice to all of us, so I won't spend a lot of time repeating what he has already provided us. What I'm really happy about is that this pro, Brent Paull, not only has the requisite experience to be of great benefit to all of us, but he has made these presentations to other groups like ours.

There is a lot to be said about knowing a subject, but it is another level, altogether, in having the skill to present it, effectively, to those of us who don't have all that much experience. This is the type of training that the club will continue to provide for our members. If you have not, already, please look at Brent's website at <http://www.amwestphoto.com>.

Our hats are off to Loye on making these arrangements.

What I find even more inspiring is that this instructor came to our attention through one of our own members: Steve Orton. This is exactly the type of dedicated commitment to improving the skills of the club, as a whole, that we need to capitalize on. The obvious lesson is that all of us can, and should, provide our program chair (Loye) with your suggestions for future programs. It's not easy for one guy to do that all by himself.

The other magnificent photography opportunity for all of us is the Oakhurst Civil War Re-enactment. Loye has arranged for a field trip of members to travel together and follow his lead on the best spots for the best images. Loye, Shelly and Dee attended last year's re-enactment, and the images they made were superior. Loye is very generous in organizing these field trips and I really encourage all members to seriously join those of us who can't wait to get up there.

Loye has also sent all members an e-notice on the date, time and location of our rendezvous. If you missed it, I know that Elizabeth has included it here in the Highlights.

The intended take-away (boy, that term is getting a lot of use these days) is we are counting on each of our members to actively participate in making Program Nights and field trips meaningful and educational, on an ongoing basis.

Very truly yours;

P. W. Rhames

Fresno Camera Club March Meeting Recap

Pat Rhames called the meeting to order at 7 p.m.

Judge: Gary Stewart

Guests: Beth Smiley, Paul's wife; Catherine Lambricht, Leroy's wife; Amy Shanafelt, Fresno; Cayce Baierski, who joined the club.

Pat mentioned the he and Lee Cates went to Hope Lutheran Church to look at their BBQ area. They will rent it to us for $140. We voted to book it for July 19th.

We are looking for program night ideas. Steve Orton gave some ideas about a gentleman in Tulare that will give seminars and various topics. Please let Loye Stone know of any ideas you might have for Program Night.

Vernon Eason spoke to the group about not being discouraged by the judge's scores on your images. Your prints need to speak to the buyer when you are selling. He has sold several images that received 8's .

* Print of the Month

+ Top Print of the Month

John Greening told us that at the last council meeting, 34 people were in attendance, 20 from the Fresno Camera Club. The next SJVCCC meeting will be on April 13th and the digital are due on April 6th. Don't forget the SJV International entries are due by March 29th and Judging will be April 5th and 6th.

Pat Rhames mentioned several photography opportunities that were in the newsletter, see page 8.

Lee Cates reminded us about the PSA Youth Showcase. She and Ron Webb will be picking up the images by April 7th and judging will be April 11th at Hope Lutheran.

Dee Humphrey mentioned that she would like the group to have a one song digital slide show, one song. We will have this during our June meeting.

Dee Humphrey also mentioned the possibility of having a photography yard sale and selling prints and equipment.

Print of the night was "Hawk and Crow" by Gary O'Neill See Page 6 for information on his print. See page 7 for information on the other top prints of the night.

About the Image of the Month

Hawk and Crow by Gary O'Neill

Shot with a Canon 5/D Mark III, 100-400mm lens, f6.7, 1/1000 sec., ISO 400, hand held. Had been watching this hawk for about a week because it was very close to where I was working at the time and it was in the process of building a nest. For a couple of days I shot from the truck when I saw the bird and when I thought it might swing close enough for some shots. The day of this photo two crows appeared and started to harass the hawk and for an hour I stood outside of my truck and shot the squabble that ensued. This was one of many.

Storm Front #2 Arches National Park by Jonathan Rollins

This image was taken in May of 2010. Shot using a Nikon D2X, at F11, 1/20 and 200 ISO. A Nikon 12 to 24 mm lens was used.

The rainbow in this image was first spotted far away from where Lloyd Stahl and I were shooting. We jumped in his car and raced toward the rainbow breaking the local speed limit! We first stopped at Balance Rock and I shot the image you see here. Deciding to try and get closer to the rainbow, we jumped back in the car traveled about 2 more miles in order to take a few more shots. The rainbow only lasted a few minutes. A case of "Right time, Right place"!

Kauai Lilly Pond by Jonathan Rollins

This image was taken in 2002 on the island of Kauai. A Nikon film camera was used: Nikon F5. The slide was scanned in using a Nikon slide/film scanner in 2002 and processed in Photoshop CC 2014. Lots of spotting was required in order to clean up this image. What brought me back to this image after so many years was the beautiful flower.

Kauai Lilly Pond by Jonathan Rollins

Durango Pond Farm by John Greening

This farm pond was beside the highway heading north from Durango, Colorado toward the San Juan Mountains. These mountains are favorites of photographers for their summer wildflowers and fall foliage. That October the aspens had turned color early and many trees already were losing their leaves when I arrived. However, that day the sky was a beautiful blue with some small clouds, and the yellowish aspens on the steep bluffs were a nice color complement to the sky. I took a few photos of aspens, bluffs and sky along the highway, but was having trouble finding compositions that had a strong center of interest. This pond was not readily visible from the road, but a painter had her easel set up looking toward the aspens. So I stopped.

As I got out of the car two serendipitous things happened: the sun went behind a cloud and a breeze ruffled the pond surface creating a more abstract reflection. Using the pond edge as a leading line, I composed an image which included a band of aspens in the background. Then I told the cows to stand still and took the shot. A Canon 60D with a 24-85mm lens set to 48 mm was used. Settings were ISO 200, f11, 1/160th.

Durango Pond Farm by John Greening

In Lightroom, I cropped away a portion of the trees from the top of the frame, set the Black Point a little darker and increased Clarity a bit. The Saturation was not increased. Other than a small amount of sharpening, no other adjustments were made. Much of the image's appeal to me is the contrast between the abstract colors of the reflected aspens and the more traditional farm setting.

One Song Slide Show

Hi all.

Let's have some fun and make the June digital meeting a bit different. Soooo, put together a 1 song slide show. Maybe they will be judged for fun. Please let me know if you plan on making one so we will know how many to plan for. Put your show on a cd or flash drive and bring it with you. Good luck and get creative.

Dee.

Providing For Yosemite's Future

Brain Teaser—From Lee

Words in the brain are not stored randomly. They seemed to be quite organized. Research has been shown that words that are often heard together (such as salt and pepper) or words that share some meaning (such as nurse and doctor) are connected or associated in the brain. Once you hear one, the other is activated. Here is a brain exercise whose aim is to stimulate the connections or associations between words in your temporal lobe.

Here is a list of pairs of words. Your goal is to find a third word that is connected or associated with both of these two words. The first pair is PIANO and LOCK. The answer is KEY. The word key is connected with both the word piano and word lock: there are KEYS on a piano and you use a KEY to lock doors.

Southern California Roundup Chapter of PSA

Save the date, Saturday, April 26, 2014, for a fun-filled and inspiring photography event that is free for PSA members. George Lepp and Robert OToole will be the featured speakers. The day will also include an opportunity to: take a photo Walk-About around the historic Mission Inn, sell your used cameras and lenses, checkout some of the latest cameras and lenses, purchase and have autographed George Lepp's books, signup for Robert OToole's newsletter, and socialize with photo friends from the southwestern area.

Online registration is required and is available now. You need to be a PSA member for your membership to be confirmed. Signup for the Friday photo Walk-About will be on a first-come, first-served basis. For Saturday night names will be drawn from a pool of those signing up the Walk-About. Registrants will receive a badge lanyard on the morning of the event to be worn for admission.

This event will be held at the California Baptist University in Riverside, CA. If this is a lengthy drive for you, consider carpooling, staying at a motel Friday or Saturday night, and participating in the sunset photo Walk-About or area activities (e.g., explore the California Museum of Photography, tour the Mission Inn).

For the event schedule, links to the speakers web sites, tips for selling your equipment, location directions and maps, a list of area activities, and the online registration checkout the PSA Roundup Chapter website.

I look forward to seeing you on April 26,
