Fresno Camera Club—October Highlights

Hello all,

I sure hope you had a great summer. Fall is now upon us and we need to get out there and start shooting fall color. I hear the Eastern Sierra is already starting to turn.

I had the most wonderful experience of my life this summer. I went to Africa and Amsterdam.

Africa is a destination you all should strive for. It was my best vacation ever, so many animals and they are all close to the vehicles. So you didn't have to see them miles away. We felt lucky to get to see the big five, elephant, rhino, leopard, lion, and cape buffalo. We were hoping to see one crossing of the 🍊 great migration and we saw 7! Our guide was absolutely wonderful he definitely made our safari the best. He knew how to track animals and find them for us. His knowledge was top notch his name was Maningo.

As for Amsterdam, it was very hard to go from the great outdoors to a very busy city. Want to get high? Walk down any street and inhale. I have never seen so many smokers in my life. If they weren't smoking cigarettes they were smoking pot!! Let's not forget the red light district. Oh my, that was interesting. We went to the museums, took a boat ride on one of these canals, saw the Anne Frank house and some windmills.

For my money put me in the serengeti any time. You will be seeing some of my photo's in the weeks to come.

See you out there.

Lighting the Arch

By Shelley Stone

I saw this photo in a magazine quite a while ago and loved it. Recently, after examining it I realized I could probably create it for myself since I had all the components. It was a fun challenge and I was happy with the results.

The photo of Delicate Arch was taken last year during the day and from the opposite side, so I flipped it and erased the mountain that was to the left. Next I added the Milky Way that I had taken at Glacier Point and the man was a guy taking photos at Canyonlands (also a daytime shot).

Lastly, I used the airbrush tool to darken everything and the dodge and burn tools to give the whole thing a realistic nighttime effect. I really wish that it was an actual photo that I took, but I'm still proud of it!

I was shooting with a Canon 7D at the time, and the editing was done in Elements 14.
