Male Lion Tanzania

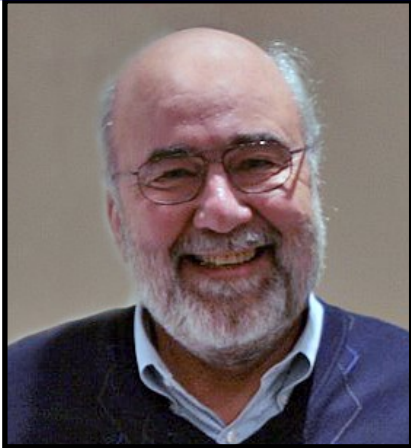

By Loye Stone

The lion was one of three in a very large pride on the western edge of the Serengeti plain in Tanzania Africa. We were able to get within about 40 or 50 feet of these magnificent beasts in our land rover vehicle (one does not exit the vehicle or you become part of the menu).

The image was shot with a Canon 7d mark II, 500 mm Canon lens, 1/1000 of a second, f4.5, 500 ISO. Photoshop elements and Nik silver effects were used to complete the image.

Vickie in Red Scarf

By Art Serabian

This image is from a series of photos taken during my very first real attempt at photographing models. The photo session was arranged by Dee, Shelley and Loye with their friends and family members serving as models. I was not sure what setup to use, so I did some “Googling” before the shoot to get an idea of what to expect, but honestly, I was learning as the day progressed.

The four of us were lined up in a row with tripods in front of the model, and as the model changed poses, we would take a picture. I was using a basic speedlight, and Dee, Shelley and Loye were sharing a strobe making the lighting somewhat unpredictable. I stationed my speedlight on a light stand with an umbrella at roughly 45 degrees to the subject and had a reflector on the opposite side to (in theory) fill shadows. Truthfully, the way the lights were firing, I’m not positive which combination produced the final lighting for the image ... whatever it was, it seemed to work.

My camera setup was a tripod mounted Nikon D800E with 70-200mm @200mm, 1/180s, f/5.6 and Nikon Speedlight SB-800. As always, the images were saved in Nikon raw format (NEF), and post-processing was done in Lightroom with a “gentle” portrait touchup using Anthropic PortraitPro.

Milky Way Over Banner Peak & Thousand Island Lake

By Ning Lin

Thousand Island Lake (9833 ft elevation) is located in the middle of John Muir Trail and Pacific Crest Trail, and is one of the most recognizable lakes on the JMT and PCT. The lake has numerous small islands. Banner Peak is a 12,936-foot mountain. In the labor day weekend I was lucky to get an overnight permit to camp in the Thousand Island Lake. The trail is about 17 miles in and out with 3500 ft ascent and decent. I took about 500 time lapse photos of the Milky Way. This is one of them with the Milky Way lining up with the Banner Peak. Nikon D850 with 20mm lens, 20 sec at f/1.8 and ISO 5000, processing with LR and Nik. The time lapse video link is <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=xlvV3XzJPhk>

Dolomites Sunset

By Ning Lin

In July of this year we hiked Dolomites Alta Via 1 in northern Italy. Dolomites is a UNESCO World Heritages Site and is one of the best places for hiking and photography. Before we reached the hut, it was raining that made our hike much more difficult, but it brought beautiful cloud and sunset.

This photo was taken in the mountain hut Rifugio Nuvolau that was built on the summit of Mount Nuvolau (8448 feet high) in 1883 and is the oldest refuge in the Dolomites. It is famous for the incomparable 360 degrees panorama view. This image was made with Nikon D850 with 24-120mm lens at 44mm, 1/80 sec at f/8.0 and ISO 31, processed in LR and Nik collection. I also produced a short video with photos and time-lapse images. The link in YouTube is: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eS8TjkYfa00>
