Rest in Peace my Cutie Pie.

Anna Hadfield

08/28/1972 - 05/22/2018

Yesterday I lost the love of my life, the other half of me for the last 19 years. My beautiful wife of the last 17 years finally lost her fight against her own immune system.

Anna left this world yesterday at around 2:45 PM, surrounded by many friends and family, all of whom loved her dearly.

To those of you who are finding out by reading this, or other social media messages I apologize, I had neither time nor the willpower to let everyone know before this fast-moving world of social media beat me to it.

Anna had what to most people would be a simple procedure back in April to remove an abscess, we dressed and cleaned it, changing the dressings many times a day and it looked to be healing well. Sadly she got an infection, this turned into Sepsis and the infection ravaged her delicate body. Her organs slowly failed and she slipped away from us yesterday. What would have been a simple infection for most was so much more for Anna. In 1999, a few weeks before I met her for the first time she was diagnosed with Rheumatoid Arthritis, hers was a vicious and chronic case, affecting all joints in her body. They diagnosed her and she started on many different treatments, that would continue for the next 19 years. RA is a disease where your own immune system attacks your body. It made her tired and lethargic, but she never let it win, well most days at least.

She had her daily allotment of "Spoons", getting out of bed, 1 spoon, brushing teeth, 2 spoons, drying hair, 4 spoons. Each spoon represented how much energy she had that day, to battle the stiffness, the pain and her own body. On good days she had lots of spoons, on the bad she might be out of spoons before she got her shoes on, but she never let it prevent her from going to work and doing her beloved job, of nursing and caring for others that couldn't do it for themselves.

The medications she took for Rheumatoid Arthritis suppress your immune system, so you can't fight back. They damage your kidneys and liver, as do the pain medications she took daily to scrape together a few more spoons. Over the last few years, the effectiveness of her medications was lessened, she became allergic to some of the better medications, and switched to alternatives. All the time I watched her lab results get worse, as her blood count decreased, her kidney function got worse and her daily spoon allocation got less.

Yet all this time she never used RA as an excuse, she never got a disabled placard she could have used, instead, forcing herself to walk further than she could have, on feet that were swollen and hurting. She rarely complained, she never let it stop her from trying to do what she wanted to do, even if her spoons were drained.

Many of you reading this may not even know Anna had RA, very few of you know just how much pain she has been in for the last few years. Bad days started with tears, she would pray for the strength to put on her shoes and bra, rarely did she ask for help. I can't think of a single day where her RA stopped her going and doing what she loved to do, to nurse those that needed her love, care and help at the 'Crest. If nursing wasn't enough she volunteered, she ministered to those that needed her help.

What all of you know of my "Cutie-Pie", or your "Anna-Banana" is her golden smile, the warmth in her heart and her genuine love of her friends and family, and you didn't have to know her for long to be her friend, sometimes just standing in line at the bank was long enough.

While I feel broken in a way I didn't know was possible, My baby is finally free of her pain, this crippling disease and no longer has to worry if she's going to have enough spoons left at the end of the day to clip her toenails.

San Joaquin Valley Camera Club Council—Spring Flash

Anna leaves behind her Father, Sister, Brother in law, and niece and nephew, She leaves her beloved Peggy-Sue, Diana, Barbara and the other girls at the crest, they are more like family to her than co-workers. Then there is Reta who started out as the family of one of Anna's patients, and is now like a part of the family for both Anna and myself, I don't know who adopted who but it has just seemed right. I know you all miss her and can only imagine how great the pain based on how I feel, but remember her smile and the twinkle in her eyes that would hint at the mischief that was probably only seconds away.

I love you Anna and have no clue how I am going to do today, let alone tomorrow without you at my side, and seeing the twinkle in your eyes and that beautiful smile I always thought you gave away too freely. The world is suddenly a lesser place, the brightest light in many lives has gone out.

Norma Mastin

In Loving Memory of Norma Jean (Davis) Mastin, former high school teacher at Madera High School. Norma Mastin, of Madera, CA, was born on April 24, 1931, in Academy, CA, to the late Lorraine Buck Davis, and the late Fred Hilton Davis, and passed away at age 87, on Friday, July 20, 2018. Norma graduated from Madera High School, and Stanford University. She started teaching Biology at Madera High School, and eventually married fellow teacher, Richard "Dick" Mastin. They traveled extensively including a sabbatical in Australia, and enjoyed life together. After Richard passed, she traveled with their good friend, Jack Green, of Australia, who just recently passed. Nature and travel photography were her passion. Norma had judged extensively for PSA internationals, local camera clubs and councils. She had produced and shown many nature and travel programs for community organizations and camera clubs. Norma had many articles published in the PSA Journal, including two cover photos. After retiring Norma continued to award scholarships and organize reunions for the Madera High School Class of 1949. Norma is survived by her sister, Phyllis Davis Kaltenbach and her husband Bruce; nephew John; and nieces, Lori and Susan, and their families. They all loved her dearly. She will be truly missed. A private Celebration of Life is planned.

Patricia Gosland passed away on June 19, 2018

Gold Rush is changing its format. The first program with this new format will be a theme of Sacramento Wall Art and abstract photography

09:00 am-Registration begins

09:30 am-Meg Sloss(More information to follow. Stay tuned)

10:30 am-Anne Miller-Anne will focus on how to shoot, see and process abstracts.

Anne Miller studied art, music and computer science in college. After teaching and performing music, she became a software engineer. To realize her artistic vision as a photographer, Miller migrated from the use of film to an exclusively digital workflow combining her interests in computing and photography. She now uses a variety of image editing software tools.

Miller explains, "I love photographing the unexpected beauty waiting to be found in ordinary, everyday things. I use the camera to abstract subjects from their familiar settings and to emphasize the shapes, textures, patterns, and colors that interest me."

Anne Miller's photographs have been featured in several exhibits in the Sacramento area. Her work can be seen at The Artery in Davis, California and at the Viewpoint Photographic Art Center in Sacramento, CA.

11:00 am-

12:00 Noon-Lunch at a nearby restaurant

1:15pm-Regather at a convenient parking place to carpool to the shoot sites. Maps of the sites will be provided.
